Remote problem diagnosis and support

Hard drive failures and battery replacement issues can be resolved by creating an automatic support case. For all other issues, contact HP Customer Support for remediation.

After receiving and acknowledging your call, HP will begin to isolate, troubleshoot, remedy, and resolve the hardware incident. Prior to onsite assistance, HP may perform remote diagnostics using electronic remote support to access covered products or use other means available to facilitate remote resolution. Regardless of your coverage window, incidents with covered hardware can be reported to HP by phone or website, as locally available, or as an automated equipment reporting event via HP electronic remote support solutions 24 x 7.³ HP will acknowledge the receipt of the case ID, and communicate that case ID to you. HP retains the right to determine the final resolution of all reported incidents.

You may reach us directly at 1 (844) 732-9070.

Next-business-day onsite hardware support

For hardware incidents that cannot be resolved remotely, an authorized representative will arrive onsite the next business day to provide onsite technical support on HP Active Care hardware products to return them to operating condition. HP may elect to replace certain products in lieu of repairing them. Replacement products will be new or functionally equivalent to new. Replaced products become the property of HP.⁴ After they arrive, representatives will deliver service onsite or remotely, at their discretion, until the products are repaired. Work may be suspended temporarily if parts or additional resources are required, but it will resume when they become available.

- Fix on failure: At the time of onsite technical support delivery, HP may install available engineering improvements and non-customer-installable firmware updates for covered hardware products required to return the covered product to operating condition or to maintain supportability by HP.
- Fix on request: For hard drive and battery replacement repair requests, customers may select an option on the TechPulse portal to have these items replaced at a time that is convenient for them, prior to the device actually failing.

Replacement parts and materials

HP will provide HP-supported replacement parts and materials necessary to maintain the covered product in operating condition, including those for available and recommended engineering improvements. Replacement parts will be new or functionally equivalent to new in performance. Replaced parts become the property of HP. If you wish to retain, degauss, or otherwise physically destroy replaced parts, you will be billed and required to pay the list price for the replacement part.

Supplies and consumable parts are not supported and will not be provided as part of this service; standard warranty terms and conditions apply to supplies and consumable parts. Repair or replacement of any supplies or consumables is your responsibility. Some exceptions may apply; contact HP for more information. See the “Coverage” section on page 6 for more details.

Firmware updates for selected products

HP firmware updates are available to customers with an active agreement that entitles them to access these updates. As part of this service, you have the right to download, install, and use firmware updates for covered products, subject to license restrictions in current HP standard sales terms. HP may provide, install, or assist with installation of firmware updates in conjunction with onsite hardware support if you have a valid license to use the related software updates.

Optional service features

- Accidental Damage Protection: Specific service levels may include protection against accidental damage from handling eligible, covered hardware products. Accidental damage is defined as physical damage to a product caused by or resulting from a sudden and unforeseen incident, provided such damage occurs in the course of regular use. Examples include non-intentional liquid spills in or on the unit, drops, falls, and electrical surges, as well as damaged or broken liquid crystal displays (LCDs) and broken parts. Country restrictions may apply; check with your local HP representative.

Additional details and exclusions are detailed in the “Service limitations” section.

- Defective Media Retention: This option allows you to retain defective hard drives or SSD/flash drive components that you do not want to relinquish due to sensitive data they might contain. All eligible drives on a covered system must participate in the defective media retention.
- Next Business Day Hardware Support for Travelers: This service provides mobile computer users with a hardware support solution for their new HP portable product. This easy and convenient solution is available in various countries/geographic locations throughout the world. Next Business Day Hardware Support for Travelers is available for select HP branded products and includes, as locally available, a next-business-day onsite response time (with local-language remote problem diagnosis in participating countries) in support of hardware problem resolution. Support is provided during the standard business hours and days of the local country/geographic location.

Delivery specifications

Devices managed by HP will have a software client installed either manually or at the factory to collect information related to the device. User-sensitive data including credentials, files, content, and personal data will not be captured. Collected data will be stored in a secure cloud repository.

Coverage window

The coverage window specifies the time during which the described services are delivered onsite or remotely. An HP authorized representative will arrive onsite during the coverage window to begin hardware maintenance service within the appropriate response interval after the call has been received and acknowledged by HP. Calls received outside the coverage window will be logged at the time of the call, acknowledged the next coverage day, and serviced within the appropriate response interval.

All coverage windows are subject to local availability. Contact a local HP sales office for detailed information on service availability.

Service-level options

Contact a local HP sales office for detailed information on service availability and coverage.

Onsite response time

For incidents with covered hardware that cannot be resolved remotely, HP will use commercially reasonable efforts to respond onsite within the specified onsite response time. Onsite response time begins when the initial call has been received and acknowledged by HP, and it ends when the HP authorized representative arrives at your site, or when HP determines that the reported event does not currently require an onsite intervention. Response times are measured during the coverage window only and may carry over to the next day with a coverage window.

Escalation management

HP has established formal escalation procedures to facilitate the resolution of complex incidents. Local HP management coordinates incident escalation, enlisting the skills of appropriate HP resources and/or selected third parties to assist with problem-solving.

Access to electronic support information and services

As part of this service, HP provides access to certain commercially available electronic and web-based tools. You have access to:

- Certain capabilities that are made available to registered users, such as subscribing to hardware-related proactive service notifications and participating in support forums for solving problems and sharing best practices with other registered users.
- Expanded web-based searches of entitled technical support documents to facilitate faster problem-solving.
- Certain HP proprietary service diagnostic tools with password access.
- A web-based tool for submitting questions directly to HP. This tool helps to resolve problems quickly with a prequalification process that routes the support or service request to the resource qualified to answer the question. It also allows the status of each support or service request submitted to be viewed, including cases submitted by phone.
- HP and third-party hosted knowledge databases for certain third-party products, where you can search for and retrieve product information, find answers to support questions, and participate in support forums. This service may be limited by third-party access restrictions.

Electronic remote support solution

For eligible products, the electronic remote support solution provides robust troubleshooting and repair capabilities. It can include remote system access solutions and may offer a convenient central point of administration and an enterprise view of open incidents and history. Remote system access may enable the HP support specialist to provide more efficient troubleshooting and faster problem resolution. HP support specialists will only use remote system access with your authorization.

Work completion

Repairs are considered complete upon HP verification that the hardware malfunction has been corrected or that the hardware has been replaced. HP is not liable for any lost data; you are responsible for implementing appropriate backup procedures. Verification by HP may be accomplished by the completion of a power-on self-test, standalone diagnostic, or visual verification of proper operation. At its sole discretion, HP will determine the level of testing necessary to verify that the hardware is repaired. At its sole discretion, HP may temporarily or permanently replace the product in order to meet the repair time commitment. Replacement products are new or functionally equivalent to new in performance. Replaced products become the property of HP. Work to completion may not apply to onsite support provided for desktop, mobile, and consumer products. HP determines the final resolution of all reported incidents.

Coverage

This service provides coverage for eligible HP PCs, including HP-supported and -supplied internal components such as memory and optical drives. This includes attached HP-branded accessories purchased together and included in the original packaging of the PC, such as a mouse, keyboard, docking station, jacket, port replicator, or AC power adapter.

HP Care Pack Services with this coverage limitation do not cover external HP monitors. All-in-one devices do include the display, which is not considered a separate, external monitor. However, a second monitor attached to an all-in-one device, for example, would not be covered by this HP Care Pack.

HP docking stations or port replicators are covered within the country where the HP Care Pack was purchased, but not outside the country of purchase.

Consumable items including but not limited to removable media, customer-replaceable batteries, tablet PC pens, and other supplies, as well as user maintenance and non-HP devices, are not covered by this service. Batteries for mobile HP commercial PCs are covered for up to three years. Search for “understanding battery warranties for business notebooks” on hp.com for more details.

For replacement parts and components that are discontinued, an upgrade path may be required. Upgrades for discontinued parts or components may in some cases result in additional charges. HP will work with you to recommend replacements. Not all components will have available replacements in all countries due to local support capabilities.

Device requirements

HP Active Care devices must be HP-manufactured PCs that meet the following device requirements:

- Shipped on or after January 1, 2018.
- Running Windows 10 1703 or higher, Pro, Enterprise, or Education editions only; Windows 10 Home editions are not supported by this feature.

HP Care Pack registration

This service is contingent upon proper HP Care Pack registration. Information on how to access the TechPulse portal will be provided in the email you receive during your Care Pack registration process. If you do not provide a proper email address for the person who will be accessing this service, it may not be made available, or it may be delayed.

For hardware onsite response time options, HP strongly recommends that you install and operate the appropriate HP remote support solution with a secure connection to HP in order to enable the delivery of the service.

Customer responsibilities

You accept that HP will collect this information as part of the delivery of this service. If you are not willing to provide this information to HP, the service will not be delivered as intended.

If specified responsibilities are not met, HP will (a) not be obligated to deliver the services as described, or (b) perform such services at your expense at the prevailing time and material rates.

If required by HP, you or an HP-authorized representative must activate the hardware product to be supported within 10 days of purchasing this service, using the registration instructions within the HP Care Pack or the email document provided by HP, or as otherwise directed by HP. If a covered product changes location, activation and registration (or a proper adjustment to existing HP registration) must occur within 10 days of the change.

An appropriate HP remote support solution, with a secure connection to HP, is strongly recommended for hardware onsite response time. You must provide all necessary resources, according to the HP remote support solution release notes, in order to enable the delivery of the service and options. When an HP remote support solution is installed, you must also maintain the contact details configured in the remote support solution that HP will use in responding to a device failure. Please contact a local HP representative for further details on requirements, specifications, and exclusions.

Upon request, you must support HP remote problem resolution efforts with the following actions:

- Provide all information necessary for HP to deliver timely and professional remote support, and for HP to determine the level of support eligibility.
- Start self-tests and install and run other diagnostic tools and programs.
- Install customer-installable firmware updates and patches.
- Perform other reasonable activities to help HP identify or resolve problems, as requested by HP.

You are responsible for installing, in a timely manner, critical customer-installable firmware updates, as well as Customer Self Repair (CSR) parts and replacement products delivered to you. You agree to pay additional charges if you request that HP install customer-installable firmware updates or patches. Any additional charges to you will be on a time-and-materials basis unless otherwise previously agreed in writing.

In cases where CSR parts or replacement products are shipped to resolve a problem, you are responsible for returning the defective part or product within a time period designated by HP. If HP does not receive the defective part or product within the designated time period, or if the part or product is degaussed or otherwise physically damaged upon receipt, you will be required to pay the HP list price for the defective part or product, as determined by HP.

You are responsible for the security of your own proprietary and confidential information, and for properly sanitizing or removing data from products that may be replaced and returned to HP as part of the repair process. For more information on these responsibilities, including those outlined in the HP Media Sanitization Policy and Media Handling Policy for Healthcare Customers, see hp.com/go/mediahandling.

Accidental Damage Protection (optional feature)

For HP Care Pack offerings that include the accidental damage protection optional service feature, you must report accidental damage to HP within thirty days of the incident date so that HP can expedite system repair. The report must have a detailed explanation of the accident, including when, where, and how it occurred, and a description of damage to the unit. HP will deny the claim if this information is not provided, or if the incident is reported more than 30 days after the incident date.

Defective Media Retention (optional feature)

With the defective media retention service feature option, it is your responsibility to:

- Retain physical control of disks or SSD/flash drives at all times; HP is not responsible for data contained on disks or SSD/flash drives.
- Ensure that any sensitive data on the retained disks or SSD/flash drives is destroyed or remains secure.
- Provide HP with identification information for each disk or SSD/flash drive retained hereunder, and execute a document provided by HP acknowledging your retention of the disks or SSD/flash drives.
- Destroy the retained disks or SSD/flash drives and/or ensure that they are not put into use again.
- Dispose of all retained disks or SSD/flash drives in compliance with applicable environmental laws and regulations.

For disks or SSD/flash drives supplied to you by HP as loaner, rental, or lease products, you will promptly return the replacement disks or SSD/flash drives at the expiration or termination of support with HP. You will be solely responsible for removing all sensitive data before returning any such loaned, rented, or leased disks or SSD/flash drives to HP, and HP shall not be responsible for maintaining the confidentiality or privacy of any sensitive data that remains on such disk or SSD/flash drive.

- Normal wear and tear; change in color, texture, or finish; gradual deterioration; rust; dust; or corrosion.

- Missing or broken keyboard caps not related to a covered accident (e.g., drop, liquid spill).

Limitations to Accidental Damage Protection

Eligibility for purchase of the accidental damage protection service feature requires the product to be covered by a factory warranty or a warranty extension service with coverage duration equal to or longer than the accidental damage protection service.

If protective items such as covers, carrying cases, or pouches were provided or made available for use with the covered product, you must continually use these product accessories to be eligible for protection under this accidental damage coverage service.

Reckless, negligent, or abusive conduct includes but is not limited to the treatment and use of the covered products in a harmful, injurious, or offensive manner that may result in damage, as well as any willful or intentional damage to the product. Any damage resulting from such acts is not covered by this accidental damage protection service feature.

The total amount that HP will pay for repairs or replacement made in connection with all claims for accidental damage from handling on any Covered Product shall not exceed the purchase price of that Covered Product excluding tax and shipping. In the event that HP, ITS AFFILIATES, SUPPLIERS, CONTRACTORS, RESELLERS, OR SERVICE PROVIDERS make repairs, which in the aggregate are equal to the purchase price of the Covered Product, or replace the Covered Product with a new, rebuilt, or refurbished product of equal or similar features and functionality, HP will have no further obligations under this Care Pack agreement regarding claims for accidental damage from handling for such Covered Product, but all other aspects of the Care Pack purchased will remain in effect unless specifically documented otherwise in the country of purchase.

Once the specified limit is reached, the cost of repair for any additional claims will be charged on a time-and-materials basis, but all other aspects of the HP Care Pack purchased will remain in effect unless specifically documented otherwise in the country of purchase.

WE SHALL NOT BE LIABLE FOR ANY INCIDENTAL OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES, INCLUDING, BUT NOT LIMITED TO, PROPERTY DAMAGE, LOST TIME, OR LOST DATA RESULTING FROM THE FAILURE OF ANY PRODUCT OR EQUIPMENT OR FROM DELAYS IN SERVICE OR THE INABILITY TO RENDER SERVICE.

HP reserves the right to physically audit your product and/or collaborate with the Customer to validate a claim submitted for accidental damage from handling.

HP may, at its sole discretion, elect to replace HP products in lieu of repairing them. The Covered Product becomes the property of HP and must be returned to HP (or HP designee) at HP expense. HP reserves the right to replace the product with a remanufactured or refurbished product. Technological advances may result in a replacement product with a lower selling price than the original product.

For customers with a history of significantly high claims, HP reserves the right to deny requests to purchase the accidental damage protection feature.

Country restrictions may apply. Contact a local HP sales office for detailed information on service availability for accidental damage protection.

Limitations to Defective Media Retention

The defective media retention service feature option applies only to disks or eligible SSD/flash drives replaced by HP due to malfunction. It does not apply to any exchange of disks or SSD/ flash drives that have not failed.

SSD/flash drives that are specified by HP as consumable parts and/or that have exceeded the maximum supported lifetime and/or the maximum usage limit as set forth in the manufacturer's operating manual, the product QuickSpecs, or the technical data sheet are not eligible for the defective media retention service feature option.

Failure rates on disks and SSD/flash drives are constantly monitored, and HP reserves the right to cancel this service with 30 days' notice if HP reasonably believes that you are overusing the defective media retention service feature option (such as when replacement of defective disks or SSD/flash drives materially exceeds the standard failure rates for the system involved).

HP shall have no obligation whatsoever with respect to the contents of or the destruction of any disk or SSD/flash drive retained by you, or sent to HP by you. Notwithstanding anything in the current HP standard sales terms or the technical data sheet to the contrary, in no event will HP or its affiliates, subcontractors, or suppliers be liable for any incidental, special, or consequential damages or damages for loss of or misuse of data under this defective media retention service.

Limitations to Travel Protection

HP requires that you return the failed unit to the original country of purchase if any repair event, including accidental damage protection, would require replacement of the device. Whole unit replacement is not available outside the original country of purchase for this service. Travel coverage is limited to onsite repair of the original unit.

When you travel outside the country of purchase, the described support services will be provided only if the country/geographic location where the service is requested and delivered is listed as a participating country/geographic location on a table accessible here. Services are not available under this agreement in countries/geographic locations other than those listed in that table. Service may, however, be provided at a lower service level at some additional locations not listed in that table.

If parts needed for the repair, especially specialized language-specific or country-specific parts, are not available, you have the following options:

- Postpone the request for the service until you have returned to the country where the product was originally purchased.
- Accept the replacement of a defective foreign part with a local part (for example, English/American keyboard).

Specialized language-specific or country-specific parts such as non-international English keyboards, non-local-language keyboards, or certain localized power supply parts are not generally available when traveling internationally and are not covered under the terms of this agreement, except within the boundaries of the country of origin.

Services requested outside the original country of purchase are limited to the base unit only. Services for external monitors are provided only in the original country of purchase, if this additional coverage has been purchased. The docking station or port replicator is eligible for coverage within the host country where the Care Pack was purchased, but does not provide coverage when traveling outside the country of purchase.

Non-HP-branded options are excluded from this service.
