

HyperX Origins 2 65 Housing (Blue)

CUSTOMIZATION SIMPLIFIED

Step into the world of custom keyboards with the Origins 2 keyboard housing! Utilizing a simple one-piece design, the Origins 2 65% housing provides an easy option to add some color to your setup. Made with a frosted translucent material, this frame creates a soft diffused lighting effect with the keyboard's RGB LEDs. The housing uses rubber-padded feet to create a stable typing and gaming platform that won't slip and slide around your desk. The high-profile angle provides a comfortable typing angle, and the two flip-down feet raise the angle even higher. The housing is for simplicity and ease of access, featuring a one-piece screw-free design to provide direct access for maintenance and personalization. Once opened, you can simply lift out the entire PCB assembly and silicon weight pad and place them into your new housing. You can even design and create your own custom keyboard housing with official open-sourced 3D printable files that are compatible with most standard 3D printers.
