Intel's numbering is not a measurement of higher performance. GHz refers to internal clock speed of the processor. Other factors besides clock speed may impact system and application performance.

High-Definition content (e.g. WMV HD files) is required to view high-definition images. Most current DVDs do not provide high-definition images.

Some models may not feature all the listed components and may vary depending on configuration.

Dual Channel is only supported when the system is configured with DDR2 symmetric memory (i.e. 2 x 512).

Supports up to 4 GB DDR2 memory (Dual Channel Memory Support; for 4 GB memory configuration, up to 1 GB may not be available with 32-bit operating systems due to system resource requirements).

For some HD-DVD or Blurray titles to play on an external display, an HDMI digital connection may be required with HDCP supported by the external display. This PC can produce up to 1080p resolution on an external display. This requires a 1080p capable HD TV or monitor. Wireless regulatory differ from country to country.
